Section 508 Rehabilitation Act Voluntary Product Accessibility

This document assesses the Fast Report 4 VCL product. In order to assess this product, a set of task deemed critical functions of the product were performed. The findings of those evaluations are contained in the Voluntary Product Accessibility Template (VPAT).

CRITERIA	REMARKS AND EXPLANATIONS
Section 1194.21 Software Applications and Operating Systems Accessibility	See Section 1194.21 below
Section 1194.22 Web Accessibility	Fast Report 4VCL product is not primarily considered a web-based internet information and application product. There is an HTML export filter which use some HTML template code in HTML and components which allow developers to make web-based applications. Fast Report 4VCL product is not display HTML directly, so much in section 1194.22 is not Applicable. This evaluated in Section 1194.22.
Section 1194.23 Telecommunications Products	Fast Report 4VCL product is not considered a telecommunications product.
Section 1194.24 Video and Multi-Media Productions	Fast Report 4VCL product is not multimedia product.
Section 1194.25 Self-Contained, Closed Products	Fast Report 4VCL product is not self-contained product.
Section 1194.26 Desktop and Portable Computers	Fast Report 4VCL product is not a desktop or portable computer.
Section 1194.31 Functional Performance	See Section 1194.31 below.
Section 1194.41 (a) Information, Documentation and Support	See Section 1194.41 below.

Section 1194.21: Software Applications and Operating Systems.

CRITERIA	SUPPORTING FEATURES	REMARKS AND EXPLANATIONS
1194.21 (a) When software is designed to run on a system that has a keyboard, product functions shall be executable from a keyboard where the function itself or the result of performing a function can be discerned textually.	Supported.
1194.21 (b) Applications shall not disrupt or disable activated features of other products that are identified as accessibility features, where those features are developed and documented according to industry standards. Applications also shall not disrupt or disable activated	Operating systems provide accessibility features that allow disabled users to customize their preferences. The application preserves those accessibility user preference settings. For example, if High Contrast Mode is selected by the mobility-impaired user, this	Fast Report 4 VCL product does not disrupt or disable accessibility features of the operating system.

features of any operating system that are identified as accessibility features where the application programming interface for those accessibility features has been documented by the manufacturer of the operating system and is available to the product developer.	option will continue to be activated when using the applications.
1194.21 (c) A well-defined onscreen indication of the current focus shall be provided that moves among interactive interface elements as the input focus changes. The focus shall be programmatically exposed so that assistive technology can track focus and focus changes.	Supported with Exceptions. When using the application with a keyboard, users can tell where they are on the screen and the information is available to assistive technologies to communicate screen location to visually impaired users.	The following areas don't apply with criteria: Focus is not always clear in the preview window (can't select exact element).
1194.21 (d) Sufficient information about a user interface element including the identity, operation and state of the element shall be available to assistive technology. When an image represents a program element, the information conveyed by the image must also be available in text.	Supported. This software application allows a screen reader to describe the user interface environment and controls. It will allow them to know if they are on a tab or radio button and what the status of that button is.
1194.21 (e) When bitmap images are used to identify controls, status indicators, or other programmatic elements, the meaning assigned to those images shall be consistent throughout an application's performance.	Supported. Fast Report 4 VCL product provides consistent use of bitmapped images.
1194.21 (f) Textual information shall be provided through operating system functions for displaying text. The minimum information that shall be made available is text content, text input caret location, and text attributes.	Supported with exceptions. Text information is accessible so assistive technologies can communicate content, attributes, and cursor location.	Fast Report 4 VCL product supports this requirement with minor exceptions. Fast Report 4 VCL does not always use Windows font size and font type settings. Users can set the larger font size via the view options menu.
1194.21 (g) Applications shall not override user selected contrast and color selections and other individual display attributes.	Supported with exceptions. Fast Report 4 VCL does not overrides user selected contrast and color selections or display attributes with minor exceptions.	Fast Report 4 VCL provides excellent support for the Color Display Settings for some backgrounds. Some user interface elements, such as the Data Tree, Report tree and Object Inspector, only respond to Contrast but not to size settings. Some dialog boxes and panes do not properly support High Contrast mode (background color does

1194.21 (h) When animation is displayed, the information shall be displayable in at least one non-animated presentation mode at the option of the user.	Not Applicable.	This requirement does not apply to Fast Report 4 VCL product.
1194.21 (i) Color coding shall not be used as the only means of conveying information, indicating an action, prompting a response, or distinguishing a visual element.	Supported.	Colors are used as the only means to distinguish text state, such as code syntax elements. Also user can set custom color setting for the report components.
1194.21 (j) When a product permits a user to adjust color and contrast settings, a variety of color selections capable of producing a range of contrast levels shall be provided.	Supported. Fast Report 4 VCL product allows for user customizations.	This functionality is base on the Operating Systems support and customizable by the user.
1194.21 (k) Software shall not use flashing or blinking text, objects, or other elements having a flash or blink frequency greater than 2 Hz and lower than 55 Hz.	Supported. Fast Report 4 VCL product does not use flashing or blinking objects.
1194.21 (l) When electronic forms are used, the form shall allow people using assistive technology to access the information, field elements, and functionality required for completion and submission of the form, including all directions and cues.	Not Applicable.	This requirement does not apply to Fast Report 4 VCL product.

Section 1194.22: Web-Based Internet Information and Applications.

1194.22 (f) Client-side image maps shall be provided instead of server-side image maps except where the regions cannot be defined with an available geometric shape.	Not Applicable.	This requirement does not apply to Fast Report 4 VCL product.
1194.22 (g) Row and column headers shall be identified for data tables.	Supported with Exceptions.	Depends on user setting used in the report template.
1194.22 (h) Markup shall be used to associate data cells and header cells for data tables that have two or more logical levels of row or column headers.	Supported with Exceptions.	Depends on user setting used in the report template.
1194.22 (i) Frames shall be titled with text that facilitates frame identification and navigation.	Not Applicable.	This requirement does not apply to Fast Report 4 VCL product.
1194.22 (j) Pages shall be designed to avoid causing the screen to flicker with a frequency greater than 2 Hz and lower than 55 Hz.	Not Applicable.	This requirement does not apply to Fast Report 4 VCL product.
1194.22 (k) A text-only page, with equivalent information or functionality shall be provided to make a web site comply with the provisions of this part, when compliance cannot be accomplished in any other way. The content of the textonly page shall be updated whenever the primary page changes.	Not Applicable.	This requirement does not apply to Fast Report 4 VCL product.
1194.22 (l) When pages utilize scripting languages to display content, or to create interface elements, the information provided by the script shall be identified with functional text that can be read by assistive technology.	Not Supported.
1194.22 (m) When a web page requires that an applet, plugin or other application be present on the client system to interpret page content, the page must provide a link to a plug-in or applet that complies with §1194.21(a) through (l).	Not Applicable.	This requirement does not apply to Fast Report 4 VCL product.
1194.22 (n) When electronic forms are designed to be completed on-line, the form shall allow people using assistive technology to access the information, field elements, and functionality required for completion and submission of the form, including all directions and cues.	Not Applicable.	This requirement does not apply to Fast Report 4 VCL product.
1194.22 (o) A method shall be provided that permits users to skip repetitive navigation links.	Not Applicable.	This requirement does not apply to Fast Report 4 VCL product.
1194.22 (p) When a timed response is required, the user shall be alerted and given sufficient time to indicate more time is required.	Not Applicable.	This requirement does not apply to Fast Report 4 VCL product.

Functional Performance Criteria

Functional Performance Criteria.

1194.31 (a) At least one mode of operation and information retrieval that does not require user vision shall be provided, or support for assistive technology used by people who are blind or visually impaired shall be provided.	Not Supported.
1194.31(b) At least one mode of operation and information retrieval that does not require visual acuity greater than 20/70 shall be provided in audio and enlarged print output working together or independently, or support for assistive technology used by people who are visually impaired shall be provided.	Supported with Exceptions.	Fast Report 4 VCL product provides functionality that conforms to these criteria with exceptions described in Section 1194.22.
1194.31(c) At least one mode of operation and information retrieval that does not require user hearing shall be provided, or support for assistive technology used by people who are deaf or hard of hearing shall be provided.	Supported.	This requirement does not apply to Fast Report 4 VCL product.
1194.31(d) Where audio information is important for the use of a product, at least one mode of operation and information retrieval shall be provided in an enhanced auditory fashion, or support for assistive hearing devices shall be provided.	Not Applicable	This requirement does not apply to Fast Report 4 VCL product.
1194.31(e) At least one mode of operation and information retrieval that does not require user speech shall be provided, or support for assistive technology used by people with disabilities shall be provided.	Not Applicable
1194.31(f) At least one mode of operation and information retrieval that does not require fine motor control or simultaneous actions and that is operable with limited reach and strength shall be provided.	Supported.	Fast Report 4 VCL product can be used from the keyboard in conjunction with accessibility options at the OS level.
